CALGARY - During International Education Week Nov. 14-18, CBE schools are celebrating the many ways they connect with the world.

CBE students engage globally by learning international languages, traveling abroad, participating in student exchange programs and learning through relationships with schools in other countries. In addition 540 international students attend CBE schools.

High school students can also earn an international certificate that recognizes outstanding achievement in second languages, international coursework and international experiences, both locally and abroad.

Media are invited to - "Creating a Culture of Awareness" at Tom Baines School. This event is a prelude for the evening event happening at the school. During the afternoon students will showcase cultural learning and student performances. Sheila McLeod, director Global Learning Services, will be available to discuss the CBE's global program.

Date: Thursday, Nov. 17

Time: 1:30-2:30 p.m.

Place: Tom Baines School, 250 Edgepark Blvd N.W.
