

Fire Safety Think Challenge:

Helping your family to make a Home Fire Escape Plan

Part of being a responsible citizen is being prepared for a fire. The quicker you respond, the less damage there will be to people and property. An Escape Plan from your home is an essential survival strategy that you and your family should have to ensure you are prepared.

Do you have one in place? If so, please share, if not, you can be the leader and help your family to develop one!

The Fire Safety Think Challenge invites you to share your plan with us.

Please visit the Responsible Citizenship section of the Fire Safety Unit. Be sure to check out all the links on this page. There are a lot of great resources to help you develop your plan. Your submission should include:

- A detailed escape plan (you could include a drawing of the route)
- A reflection about how you developed and practiced this plan with your family

The student who shows the most detailed and thoughtful plan could win an iPod Nano! One student entry is selected for each Think Challenge!

We look forward to your plan and reflections! Good luck!

Send your plan to before November 30th, 2007:
