There are six (6) categories of employee status used to determine employee compensation, benefits and terms and conditions of employment.

These are:

- Continuous Part-time 12-month: employed for less than 35 hours per week.
- Continuous Part-time 10-month: employed for less than 35 hours per week.
- Temporary Full-time: employed for a defined period of 4 months or more to work full-time hours.
- Temporary Part-time: employed for a defined period of 4 months or more to work part-time hours.

4.0 General Conditions of Employment

Executives are expected to adhere to all administrative regulations and policies of the CBE. See <http://www.cbe.ab.ca/about-us/policies-and-regulations/Pages/default.aspx> for current policies and regulations.

4.1 Exempt and Save Harmless

The CBE will exempt and save harmless employees, their heirs and estate from any liability action arising from the performance of their duties for the CBE except in the case of wilful misconduct. The CBE will assume all costs, legal fees and expenses of the employee, their heirs and estate arising from such action.

5.0 Probationary Period

New employees, offered continuous employment, are subject to a six (6) month probationary period.

If a former employee is rehired at a later date, the employee will be subject to a new probationary period as a new employee.

If a person on contract, or performing temporary/casual work, is offered continuous employment, the probationary period will apply from the date that continuous employment commenced.

If an employee is deemed unsuitable or underperforming in his/her job, then he/she may be released during the probationary period. In certain circumstances the Chief Superintendent may extend the probationary period by a maximum of three (3) months. This extension must be in writing with a copy provided to the employee.

6.0 Hours of Work

The hours of work for continuous, full-time, executive employees are 35 hours per week or 1,820 hours per annum (prorated for part time employees).

The employee will be expected to lengthen their regular hours in each work day by 15 minutes in order to earn the days off. Earned days can be used outside of the June to August months, with the approval of the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority.

In the event that conditions require excess hours for an extended period, the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority may provide compensation or time in lieu as per the Alberta, Employment Standards Code for positions entitled to overtime pay. Where Alberta, Employment Standards overtime provisions are not applicable the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority may authorize appropriate paid time away.

15.0 Leaves

Leaves not covered by the terms herein may be considered, based on approval by the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority.

15.1 Sick Leave

Sick Leave is designed to protect employees from the impact of unavoidable illnesses that necessitate short-term absences from work.

Unused sick leave shall be accumulated to a maximum total of 260 working days.

An employee who is unable to report for work due to sickness shall notify the Chief Superintendent at the earliest opportunity.

For absences of five (5) consecutive working days or less, employees are required to submit their sick time upon return to work.

For absences in excess of five (5) consecutive working days, a CBE Certificate of Illness completed by a qualified medical or dental practitioner is required. 15.2 Supplementation to the Workers Compensation Award

Where an employee is prevented from performing their regular duties with the CBE due to an occupational accident or injury recognized by The Workers' Compensation Board as compensable within the meaning of The Workers' Compensation Act, the CBE will supplement the award. This payment is reflective of the loss of wages by an amount which, when added to the award, will equal 100% of the employee's regular net wage (gross minus Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and Employment Insurance (EI) deductions). This supplement shall be paid by the CBE while the employee receives compensation from The Workers' Compensation Board, until the employee returns to full active duties of their position, is placed on a long term disability leave of absence or until the employee retires, whichever occurs first. Benefits entitlement and eligibility shall be in accordance with Section 11 - Group Benefits.

15.3 Long Term Disability

Long term disability (LTD) benefits eligibility will be considered following the later of 90 calendar days, 60 working days or any accumulated sick leave, from the commencement of illness or injury. Employees will be returned to work as follows:

- (i) Full-time regular duties in their position at the salary they received immediately prior to the commencement of the leave;
- (ii) Modified employment in their position at a rate of pay adjusted for the change in the employee's work, should the CBE determine this accommodation can be provided. Accommodation requirements by law will be adhered to.

A medical certificate indicating that the employee is pregnant and providing the estimated date of birth may be requested. The employee shall provide at least 30 days written notice of their intention to return to work from such leave.

An employee may take up to twelve (12) weeks of maternity leave prior to the estimated date of birth. This period of leave shall be included as part of the six (6) month maternity leave.

Should an employee wish to continue participating in the group benefits plan during the maternity leave, the premiums will continue to be shared between the CBE and the employee as per the group benefits provisions. Notice of such intent must be included in the written notice of intention to take maternity leave.

An employee may return to duty prior to the expiration of leave granted, provided a medical certificate is submitted indicating that the resumption of work will not endanger the employee's health, and a suitable position is available.

Upon return from leave, the employee will be reinstated in the position occupied at the time maternity leave commenced, or be provided with alternative work of a comparable nature, at not less than the salary and other benefits that were applicable at the time the maternity leave commenced.

15.6.1 Supplementary Employment Benefits

An employee shall receive Supplementary Employment Benefits which, when combined with Employment Insurance Benefits, are equivalent to one hundred (100%) percent of salary. The payment of this benefit shall commence on the child's date of birth and will continue during the health-related portion of the maternity leave during which the employee would otherwise be eligible to receive sick leave benefits.

Supplementary Employment Benefits will be paid for a period of eight (8) weeks following the child's date of birth provided the employee is otherwise eligible to receive sick leave benefits.

Continuation of Supplementary Employment Benefits beyond eight (8) weeks following the child's date of birth shall require satisfactory medical evidence of disability and may be paid up to a maximum of thirteen (13) weeks (inclusive of the initial 8 weeks).

Supplementary Employment Benefits shall be paid only during the period in which the employee is in receipt of Employment Insurance Benefits and shall include full salary during any waiting period of 2 to 3 weeks prior to receipt of such benefits.

15.7 Adoption Leave

An employee may be granted up to a maximum of three (3) days with pay for the purpose of completing necessary documentation and requirements relating to the adoption and custody of a child.

Upon written request, an employee who has completed their probationary period is entitled to adoption leave without pay for a period of up to six (6) months commencing on the date the child is placed with the employee for the purpose of adoption.

An employee shall provide the CBE written notice at least thirty (30) days prior to the date that the employee will commence adoption leave, unless the date of the child's placement with the employee was not foreseeable. If the employee cannot comply with the written notice requirement, the employee must give the CBE written notice at the earliest possible date that the employee will start or has started adoption leave. The employee will provide at least 30 days written notice of their intention to return to work from such leave.

During an adoption leave an employee shall not accumulate vacation time or salary increase.

The premiums will continue to be shared between the CBE and the employee during the adoption leave should an employee wish to continue participation in the group benefits plan. Notice of such intent must be provided in writing to the CBE at the same time the adoption leave is requested.

An employee may return to duties prior to the expiration of leave granted, provided a suitable position is available.

Upon expiration of the leave, an employee shall be reinstated in the position occupied at the time the adoption leave commenced, or be provided with alternative work of a comparable nature, at not less than the salary and other benefits that were applicable at the time adoption leave commenced.

15.8 Parental Leave of Absence

Upon written request, an employee shall be granted parental leave, without pay, as an extension of maternity leave or adoption leave. Parental leave shall not exceed an additional six (6) months.

An employee who has not accessed maternity leave or adoption leave who has successfully completed their probationary period is entitled to a parental leave without pay of up to thirty-seven (37) weeks within a fifty-two (52) week period after the birth of the employee's child or after a child has been placed with the employee for the purpose of adoption.

Where both parents are continuous employees of the CBE, the parental leave may be taken by either or both parents.

While on parental leave of absence, an employee may access the group benefits plan at no cost to the CBE.

During the period of parental leave, an employee shall not accumulate vacation time or salary increase.

Upon expiration of the parental leave, the employee shall be reinstated in the position occupied at the time the leave commenced, or be provided with alternative work of a comparable nature, at not less than the salary and other benefits that were applicable at the time parental leave commenced.

15.9 Extended Parental Leave

Upon written request at least one month prior to expected return date, an employee may be granted extended parental leave, without pay, at the discretion of the CBE and subject to operational requirements, and approval by the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority and Superintendent of Human Resources or delegated authority. The extended parental leave shall not exceed twelve (12) months.

Upon expiration of the parental leave, the employee shall be reinstated to the position occupied at the time the leave commenced, or provided alternative work of a comparable nature, at not less than the salary and other benefits that were applicable at the time extended parental leave commenced.

15.10 Other Parental Leave

An employee may be granted, upon request, up to three (3) days' leave with pay at the time of the birth of their child.

15.11 General Leave of Absence

Requests by continuous employees for unpaid leaves of absence of up to a maximum of one year shall be made in writing to the Chief Superintendent or delegated authority and may be granted at the discretion of the employer to a maximum of one year. The employee's position will be held for the leave period.

An employee shall continue to accrue vacation credits and benefits during the first 20 consecutive work days of the unpaid leave of absence.

If the unpaid leave of absence exceeds 20 consecutive work days, the employee shall not accumulate vacation credits from the 21st day of the unpaid leave to the last day of the unpaid leave. Further, maintenance of employee benefits shall be conditional upon the employee paying the full costs of such benefits.

15.12 Educational Fellowships Leaves

The CBE recognizes the need of employee professional growth. The granting of leaves of absence for the purpose of educational improvement will be subject to the following conditions:

- Employees who have completed three years or more of service will be eligible to apply for educational leave
- Employees shall not be granted leave to obtain qualifications which are required for the position held except where:
 - there is economic benefit to the CBE in developing an internal employee rather than through external recruitment;

 - labour market conditions are such that qualified applicants are unlikely to be available to meet the CBE's future staffing needs.
- Leaves will be granted for a period of one year but may be extended for completion of the same program for which the original leave was granted
- All leaves are subject to recommendation by the Superintendent of Human Resources, or delegated authority, and approved by the Chief Superintendent of Schools or delegated authority

- Leaves may be granted without pay, maintenance of group benefits or with financial assistance of up to 65% of the employee's current annual salary in effect at the time of the leave, based on the following:
 - The immediacy of benefit to the CBE resulting from the training acquired;
 - The past and anticipated future contribution of the employee to the organization; and
 - The obligation of the CBE to provide such training due to organizational changes that result in elimination of the need for the employee's existing skill and knowledge.

Continuous employees granted financial assistance shall enter into a written agreement with the CBE to serve with the CBE for one month for each month of financial assistance received. Should the employee resign, or retire prior to completing this service commitment, the employee will reimburse the CBE for the outstanding portion of financial assistance.

Personal leave days will be taken at the equivalent of one (1) full day (half days and quarter days do not apply).

All newly hired employees will receive two (2) days of personal leave irrespective of their start date within a calendar year. Employees are not entitled to a service/retirement allowance if they are terminated for cause.

Employees may be subject to performance management in circumstances which warrant the need.

The CBE may terminate an employee at any time, without cause, by providing the employee with working notice (the Notice Period) or pay in lieu of notice (Severance Payment). An employee whose employment is terminated on a without cause basis will be offered outplacement services to assist them with career transitioning.

18.0 Total Rewards Philosophy

The CBE believes in providing employees with challenging work, support for their development and rewards for their contribution. In return, the CBE expects employees to accept accountability for their position and to effectively apply the skills needed to meet organizational objectives.

The CBE provides and maintains a fiscally responsible total rewards program compatible with, and supportive of, the overall organizational philosophy in exchange for employee's time, talents and contributions. This total rewards strategy includes a number of components:

- Direct Compensation: Competitive salaries;
- Indirect Compensation: Competitive benefit programs, pensions, vacations, holidays, flexible work options;
- Personalized learning and career development;
- Value and recognition; and
- A safe and healthy work environment.

19.0 Compensation Guidelines

19.1 Direct Compensation

The CBE believes in treating employees equitably and strives to achieve equity through its compensation policies and practices in three (3) key areas:

- Internal equity through an internal evaluation system;
- External equity comparison to relevant external market comparators; and
- Individual equity by acknowledging that employees possess varying degrees of performance, experience and education.

Direct compensation will be:

- Internally equitable in relation to the value of each position;
- Externally competitive in relation to relevant market comparators; and
- Reflective of individual experience and linked to performance.

19.2 Salary Plan

The salary plan is designed to respond to the needs of the organization, and more specifically to enable the attraction and retention of skilled, and motivated employees.

The Salary Plan

- Applies to all executive positions;
- Establishes a salary range for each position and a mechanism for salary progression within the salary range;
- Offers flexibility to manage pay and grant adjustments while considering a combination of factors;

- Provides a common review period for annual salary progression.

20.0 Salary Ranges

Salary ranges will be developed by Human Resources, Total Rewards for each position based on the role and responsibilities of the position, internal equity and on relevant comparator market data. Salary ranges will be adjusted on a periodic basis to reflect changing labour market conditions. The maximum of the range cannot be exceeded.

20.1 Special Adjustments

On occasion, adjustments outside of the normal salary schedule and guidelines may be necessary to improve or correct pay relationships between individuals in the same or comparable positions. Special adjustments must be brought forward by the Chief Superintendent to the Superintendent of Human Resources (or designate where the adjustment affects the Superintendent of Human Resources) for consideration and approval.

21.0 Salary Administration Procedures

21.1 Salary Adjustments

Market Adjustments

On a periodic basis, salary ranges will be reviewed by Human Resources, Total Rewards and may be adjusted during the performance cycle to reflect changing labour market conditions.

Pay for Performance

Progression through the salary structure, up to the established salary maximum, will be based on the annual summative evaluation of the Chief Superintendent in the assessment of performance and contribution of success to the organization.

Any salary adjustments will be awarded effective on a common date, determined by Human Resources, Total Rewards. Employees need to be actively employed on the date of payment in order to receive the retroactive pay.

21.2 Pay for New Hires

The following process will be used to determine the starting salary for new employees:

- The job will be defined by the Chief Superintendent
- The job will be evaluated and assigned a salary range by Human Resources.
- The starting salary will be determined following consultation with Human Resources and will take into account the qualifications of the job, the new hire's experience, skills and competencies, and current placement of employees in comparable positions.

21.3 Voluntary Transfer to a Position with a Lower Salary Range

If an employee voluntarily transfers to a position with a lower salary range, he/she will be placed at a point in the new range that takes into account the qualifications of the job, experience, skill and competencies. This new placement will not exceed his/her former rate of pay.

21.4 Wage Protection

Where, through transfer or reclassification, an employee's current salary is greater than the salary range maximum of their new classification or their new job to which they are now assigned, their salary will be frozen and wage protected (red circled) at this rate until the salary maximum of the new salary range reaches the employee's current salary.

21.5 Lateral Transfer

A lateral transfer, defined as a different position at the same salary range, will not necessarily trigger a salary adjustment.

21.6 Increases for Promotions, Acting Assignments and Job Reclassifications

For a promotion or reclassification to a position with a higher salary range, or official designation as "acting" in a higher range in the absence of an incumbent for a minimum of 20 business days, employee placement in the new range will be determined following consultation with Human Resources and will take into account the employee's experience, skills and competencies, and current placement of incumbents with comparable positions.

For Acting Assignments, the employee shall not be eligible for any other benefits or entitlements other than salary recognition.

21.7 Delegation of Authority

Delegation of Authority where a supervisor is away from the office does not trigger a salary adjustment.

21.8 Salary Differentials Related to Supervisor Relationships

To alleviate compression, which may result from the supervision of employees, the salary of an executive may be adjusted. The Chief Superintendent, in consultation with Human Resources, Total Rewards determines whether the executive's salary should be adjusted and recommends the amount of the salary differential. Factors such as the qualifications of the job, skills, knowledge, experience, and abilities of the executive are also considered. After analyzing the particular circumstances of each salary compression application, Human Resources, Total Rewards will develop a recommended approach for approval by the Superintendent of Human Resources (or designate where the adjustment affects the Superintendent of Human Resources).

22.0 Performance Recognition and Personalized Learning Program

The CBE believes that a well-designed and supportive Performance and Personalized Learning Program presents a significant opportunity to:

- Align individual performance expectations with the Three - Year Education Plan, Results and Operational Expectations, and the Annual Strategic Objectives;
- Assist in individual performance expectations;
- Assist in defining and establishing group performance expectations;
- Recognize an employee's contribution on an individual basis;
- Support quality initiatives;
- Support career planning;

- Provide ongoing opportunities for supervisors to coach, and encourage personalized learning; and
- Provide a framework for staffing and succession planning decisions.

Fundamental to achieving the CBE's overall strategic direction is a management philosophy that embraces the following guiding principles concerning performance, recognition and personalized learning:

- A partnership between the CBE and its employees;
- A linkage to the organization's Three - Year Education Plan, Results and Operational Expectations;
- A focus on performance recognition and personalized learning, individual success and employee satisfaction;
- Achieving annual strategic objectives as identified by the Executive Team.
- An opportunity for employees to participate in the development of objectives and performance criteria; and
- A means of promoting fair, honest and constructive communication between the supervisor and employee regarding expectations and performance.

A Performance Plan may be developed for executive employees in the organization. The employee and the Chief Superintendent may jointly develop the performance plan; and the Chief Superintendent will approve the plan.

23.0 Right of Appeal

An employee, who views their rights have been violated shall review this matter immediately with the Chief Superintendent. If at the conclusion of this discussion, the matter is not settled to the satisfaction of both parties, the employee shall submit their concerns, including remedy sought, in writing within five (5) working days of the initial discussion to the Chief Superintendent. The Chief Superintendent will provide a response in writing within five (5) working days of the receipt of the employee's written correspondence.

Failing satisfactory resolution, the employee may refer the issue to the Superintendent of Human Resources to render a decision in writing to the employee within ten (10) working days, which will be binding.
